

"Children's Integrity Month" and Food Superman first jointly advocate integrity.

In order to encourage parents and children to read together and nurture the concept of children's integrity, the Department of Government Ethics Taipei City Government for the first time cooperated with the local original high-quality animation, "FOOD Superman", who was shortlisted for this Golden Bell Award. On Saturdays in September 2018, at the Taipei Public Library and some branches (with Volunteer Storyteller of Taipei Library, please contact each branch for details), there are animation-playing, (ex. FOOD Superman) and story-telling by Volunteers from 2:30 pm to 4:30 pm. Parents are welcome to accompany their children to understand the concept of honesty and anti-corruption and enjoy reading.

According to the Department of Government Ethics, the "Children's Integrity Month" reading promotion event is held annually with the Taipei Public Library and Volunteer Storyteller. This year, the avatar of justice, FOOD Superman, noted between children aged 0-6, was invited to star in "Which one is FOOD man" and "Disappeared Photo" animation. With the lively story linked closely to the core value of honesty and credit, the storyteller will lead the children and guide them to think and internalize the concept of integrity. Follow FOOD Superman, to advocate integrity, shape character, beat bad guys, and let justice win. Welcome parents and children to participate. In addition, if you download the app, COCOAR2, from your mobile phone and use it to scan poster without login, you can take a photo with FOOD Superman!
