

Stamps of Tamsui-Xinyi Line

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
1	淡水站 Tamsui		Come to Tamsui Lovers' Bridge to enjoy the sunset and rosy clouds! Accompanied by the curving bridge, light sparkling on the water, and wavering sampans, the twilight at sunset here is bedazzling. At Fort San Domingo, a national heritage site, enjoy the reconstructed relics of Taiwan's long-ago Dutch colonists.
2	紅樹林站 Hongshulin		Here we have one of the most precious kandelvia-ecology locations in the whole world, declared the Tamsui River Mangrove Nature Reserve in 1986. Walking along the boardwalk, you can view the unique kandelvia at close range, and can also spot strangely shaped mudskippers and sideways-walking fiddler crabs.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
3	竹圍站 Zhuwei		Riding along the Tamsui River on the Golden Shore Bike Path by Zhuwei Wharf, you're actually experiencing the most famous scenery in this station's area; this bikeway is a must-ride for cycling enthusiasts. In addition to enjoying the riverside scenery, you can also look far into the distance at scenic Mt. Guanyin.
4	關渡站 Guandu		Connecting Wugu and Bali with Beitou and Tamsui, the red-colored Guandu Bridge, from which you can observe myriad waterfowl in flight, is an important landmark. If you come to Guandu, don't forget to visit the 300-year-old Guandu Temple, the local religious center as well as the oldest Mazu Temple in northern Taiwan.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
5	忠義站 Zhongyi		February is the month to visit the Cherry Blossom Hiking Trail on Mt. Zhongyi and enjoy the romantic cherry blossoms. At the top of Mt. Zhongyi is Taipei National University of the Arts, known for its liberal and romantic academic atmosphere. At the bottom of the mountain is the historic Beitou Hsing Tian Temple (also known as Zhongyi Temple).
6	復興崗站 Fuxinggang		This station is the gateway for MRT Beitou Depot, the Taipei Metro's largest in scale and highest in classification. Following the public art, "Small Army Men Make Great Contributions", to look at the grid of criss-crossing tracks and feel the busyness of Taipei Metro network. The distinctive red-brick tower standing on the grounds of Fu Hsing Kang College, National Defense University is definitely an eye-catching landmark.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
7	北投站 Beitou		As you walk out of this station, made of trusses and glass curtains, you get a clear sense of the modern technology incorporated into this special work of architecture. Nearby is a Grade III Historic Monument, the Zhou Family Monument of Virtue, and there are numerous traditional tea shops selling black tea made with old-time methods.
8	新北投站 Xinbeitou		New Beitou (Xinbeitou) is exceptionally rich in hot springs. Its history as a resort area can be traced back to the time when Taiwan was under Japanese rule. The original Beitou hot-spring public bath has been renovated to serve as home to the Beitou Hot Spring Museum, allowing tourists to acquire better understanding of the area's development.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
9	奇岩站 Qiyán		When you step into Chongyang Park, you will see a huge pond in front of the viewing platform with a wide variety of aquatic plants. The contours and crest lines of Mt. Danfeng in the distance will give you the experience of looking at a traditional Chinese ink painting.
10	唹哩岸站 Qilian		Although there is no quarry left in this area, the stone-carving culture of the old times has been blended into the local cultural character. Here you can see the snow-white Battleship Rock standing high above the green foliage. Cisheng Temple is the most important religious center in this area.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
11	石牌站 Shipai		Walking out of this station, you will find a stone tablet marking the Qing Dynasty boundary between the Han and the local indigenous peoples. If you continue your journey toward Xingyi Park, you will come across photographers trying to capture images of the beautiful Taiwan Blue Magpie.
12	明德站 Mingde		Traveling alongside the winding Sulfur Creek, you will pass Ronghua Park, a wonderful playground designed for children especially, and the Embassy Area, where you can see different national flags waving at you, showing the friendship between this country and the many others with which we share diplomatic relations.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
13	芝山站 Zhishan		The Zhishan Cultural and Ecological Garden is the first of its kind in Taiwan. The Taiwan Traditional Theatre Center nearby plays an important role in passing on and promoting traditional performing arts and aesthetics. The Tianmu Baseball Stadium, a little farther off, is another kind of stage – one of courage and glory.
14	士林站 Shilin		Surrounded by carefully maintained gardens, the National Palace Museum has a reserved yet dignified, grandiose appearance. The secluded environment and refined architecture of the Shilin Main Presidential Residence long made it President Chiang Kai-shek's favorite residence.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
15	劍潭站 Jiantan		Shaped like a dragon boat, this station is regarded as the representative of the entire Taipei MRT. The next-door Shilin Night Market can be said as the one and only night market favored by both domestic and overseas tourists. Another well-known site in this area is Yuanshan Bowling Alley where in the early days celebrities and fine folks gathered for not only playing bowling but also socializing.
16	圓山站 Yuanshan		Since its unveiling, The Grand Hotel has enjoyed global fame for the beauty of its classical-style Chinese architecture. Not far away is Taipei Confucius Temple, which attracts a great number of tourists every year with the solemn Confucius Ceremony.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
17	民權西路站 Minquan W. Rd.		Stepping out of this station, you will find yourself surrounded by dazzling wedding gowns, for you have just entered one of Taipei's two famous Wedding Salon Streets, where you can see a grand array of resplendent gowns through display windows sparkling in the bright sunlight. This street is also known as the Green Boulevard for its many trees. Featuring a tempered-glass roof, the station itself has also become a local landmark.
18	雙連站 Shuanglian		This is an area of harmonious religious diversity, home to historic Taipei Xia-Hai City God Temple and century-plus-old Suang Lien Presbyterian Church. The nearby Mackay Memorial Hospital commemorates the great Rev. Dr. George Leslie Mackay's selfless deeds in Taiwan.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
19	中山站 Zhongshan		The Taipei Film House (also known as SPOT-Taipei Film House), originally the American consulate in Taiwan, is now a place for film-culture interchange. You can feel an aura of chic fashion here, and witness the historical development of the local commercial district when you spend some time in the nearby century-old coopery.
20	台北車站 Taipei Main Station		Bringing Taipei Metro, High Speed Rail, regular railway, and long-distance coach services under the same roof, Taipei Main Station is Taipei's most important transportation junction. The station itself is a bustling commercial center, and renowned neighboring department stores add to the buzz of prosperity.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
21	台大醫院站 NTU Hospital		The old National Taiwan University Hospital building, built when Taiwan was under Japanese rule, is equipped with a splendid entrance and a majestic and expansive lobby. It is now listed as a municipal historical monument. Inside the nearby 228 Peace Park is National Taiwan Museum, the oldest museum in Taiwan; the park is a good place for a leisurely stroll.
22	中正紀念堂站 Chiang Kai-Shek Memorial Hall		The majestic Chiang Kai-Shek Memorial Hall features blue and white colors to represent liberty and equality; its expansive plaza is oft busy with flocks of pigeons.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
23	東門站 Dongmen		Having undergone reconstruction and transformation, Dongmen Market still preserves its character of a conventional market. Through the exit, passengers can reach Yongkang Street, with an international reputation for traditional xiaolongbao dumplings and beef noodles.
24	大安森林公園站 Daan Park		This station is made of glass curtains, and the joining of its sunken garden with adjacent Daan Park creates a space for taking rests. The nearby Jianguo Holiday Flower Market bursts with beautiful flowers and plants.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
25	大安站 Daan		Standing tall in the middle of the road, this station is an illustration of the busy city. Forming a silk-like ribbon alongside Fuxing S. Rd., the fire-red flowers are part of summer's quiet replacement of spring.
26	信義安和站 Xinyi Anhe		Popularly called the Tonghua Night Market, Linjiang Street Tourist Night Market is small yet rich in inexpensive delicacies. The nearby Wenchang Street (known as "Furniture Street") offers a fine selection of furniture items.

No.	Station	Station Stamp	Introduction
27	台北 101/世貿站 Taipei 101/ World Trade Center		The multi-node façade of Taipei 101 is a unique global visual image, symbolizing Taiwan’s dynamic new horizons in this new century. One of Taiwan’s economic hotspots, the nearby Taipei World Trade Center is the stage for many international trade fairs, conferences, and expos.
28	象山站 Xiangshan		A place alive with natural creatures, such as Taipei tree frogs (Rhacophorus taipeianus), ferns, birds, etc., the Xiangshan Trail is a veritable eco-paradise perfect for “slow movement.”