National Denim Day, which took place on April 29, 2020, was an event in which people were encouraged to wear jeans or denim to raise awareness of sexual assault. Therefore, Taipei City Center for Prevention of Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault members, 148 participants, wearing jeans or denim and reminding society with placards read "Support instead of criticism", expressed our support for sexual assault survivors and termination of sexual assault to arouse the society's awareness of sexual assault and importance of sexual violence.
