Fashion Dancer Vanness Wu invites you to Be Yourself.

The annual street dance event “Metro Street Dance Competition 2013” is here. This year, fashion dancer Vanness Wu has been invited to serve as the event spokesperson in addition to serving as judge and prize presenter at the finals. All dancers are encouraged to register via the Chinese website of Metro Street Dance Competition between now and July 7th. The first place team will receive a prize of NT100,000!

This is the 9th Metro Street Dance Competition and a special “On-Line Dance Workshop” film has been produced, in which famous dance masters including Sheng-Feng Zhang, TOY, Seven, and Bojin will teach various dance styles throughout the film. Those who are interested can view the complete version of instructions from the Chinese website of “Metro Street Dance Competition,” in response to the spirit of Metro Street Dance Competition: “Be yourself.”

This year’s competition is divided into two groups: Group A – Juvenile Group and Group B – Youth Group. All dancers will participate in the “Street Dance” held in the Jianna Rd. Station Plaza starting from July 20th. The finals will be held on August 17th with the first place of each group winning NT100,000, the second place winning NT60,000, third place winning NT30,000, and Honorable Mentions winning NT10,000 (3 prizes per group).
