

● Wanhua District / Kuan Hsueh-Chin - Taiwan-- Our New Home

Mother: "I am a girl from a small town in Hubei, China. I have a very happy family. In my hometown there is no bustling downtown area, no sea, and no neon lights--just lush rice fields, clear creeks, and down-to-earth small-town people."

Children: "We are city children from Wanhua, Taipei. We have a very happy family. There are only the two of us in our family. Here we have bustling streets filled with busy people. Lungshan Temple, the Red House, Bopiliao, Snake Alley, and Youth Park: the old and the popular intermingle in this city. This is the place that nurtures us."

Mother: "When I was little, almost all toys cost no money. There were toys such as shuttlecock, hacky sack, and hopscotch. Also, only a few snacks were available, and those only during New Year. Because of the love my parents gave me, I only wanted to grow up to work and let my parents live a good life.”

“After growing up, I went to Guangzhou to work. After dating for a year, I married my husband and came to Taiwan, walking into a completely unfamiliar new home. Facing this new environment overwhelmed me, but both of my in-laws are good to me, which helped drop a huge stone off my chest. After I was in Taiwan for a year, I gave birth to a beautiful princess, and then a handsome prince. They enriched my life.”

Children: “We like role playing, puzzle games, and putting together puzzles.

Taipei New Immigrants’ Hall often organizes various fun events, like Summer Computer Camps, outdoor family activities, and Indonesian culture exhibitions.

Through these activities we get to know many new friends and learn about many different cultures. Having these resources is a blessing.”

Mother: "I have been in Taiwan for eleven years."

Girl: "I have lived in Wanhua for ten years."

Boy: "I have lived in Wanhua for eight years."

Together: "We love Taiwan and we like the customs, food culture, and freedom of speech. Taiwan we love you!"
